

Student: _____

1. When I am online, I should not give out...

- A) Recipes for delicious sandwiches
- B) My sister's name and where she goes to school.
- C) Advice on a cool game.
- D) My favourite song.

2. I met this cool person online, and we have been chatting for months!

We set up a meet and greet this Sunday. I should...

- A)...not show up! This person could be dangerous!
- B)...totally show up, because they sent me their picture and I believe it is their real picture.
- C)...show up, but bring a trusted adult with me.
- D) Options A and C are correct.

3. The following is an example of BAD sharing:

- A) My best friend asked me to send a picture of my new cute underwear, and I did it!
- B) Some kid I met on the internet asked me to trade nude pictures.
- C) I had diarrhea and posted a picture of myself on the toilet.
- D) I posted a picture on Instagram of myself looking sexy.
- E) All of the above.

4. Bob sent me a picture of cute kitties to use as a background. I don't know Bob, but he seems cool. I should...

A)...thank Bob! I love kitties!

B)...tell Bob thank you, and ask for more pictures. Puppies maybe?

C)...run my antivirus, or delete the file immediately. It could be a virus, or tracking software. I don't know Bob!

5. I read online that Jenny kissed Timmy. I can't believe it! I am going to...

A)...share this online with everyone!

B)...ask Jenny or Timmy if this is true, and if it is, I am going to share it with everyone!

C)...let them know that someone is spreading these rumours about them online.

6. I messed up and said something awfully rude on the internet. I am going to...

A)...ignore it and never visit the site again! After a few years, who cares?

B)...go back and apologize for the comment, and if possible, delete it. Everything I say can be traced back to me forever! I don't want people to think I am a bully...

C)...say it wasn't me. Deny, deny, deny!

7. I read a blog online saying that broccoli causes cancer.

A) I HATE broccoli, so I am going to share it with everyone because I agree with it!

B) I am going to double check online and see if I can find a reliable medical site that says the same thing...

C) I am not a doctor, so I am going to check this with my parents or a trusted adult who can confirm this. I like confirming things before sharing.

D) Options B and C are correct.

8. If this happens, I am totally telling an adult!

A) I messed up! I gave someone my name and city, and they wrote me back with my full address. I don't know how they did this!

B)Someone online sent me a weird photo and made me feel uncomfortable.

C) I said that Bieber is the best, and some unknown person agreed with me.

D) Someone online asked me to do something that made me feel uncomfortable.

E) Options A, B and D are correct.

9. My online friend asked me to send a picture of myself without my shirt on. This friend said that if I really was their friend I would do it. I don't want to lose their friendship! I should...
- A)...make sure my friend promises not to share the picture before I send it out
 - B)...follow my gut and not send the picture!
 - C)...tell my friend that if they were my real friend, they would not be asking me to do something that makes me uncomfortable
 - D)...stop talking to this person right away. They are not my friend.
 - E) B, C and D are correct, and I should do all of them.

10. SWEET! Now that I know more about online safety, I feel like a warrior! I am going to celebrate by...

- A)...behaving like a good online citizen and following the eWarrior rules!
- B)...telling me brother or sister about this, so they can be eWarriors too!
- C)...telling my friend who missed this class to go check this website, so he can be an eWarrior like me!
- D) All of the above.

11. Below, I drew a picture of me as an eWarrior. I look awesome!
